"Library Support/Service during Pandemic Situation"

The Ananda Rangapillai library has started "Library Support/Service during Pandemic Situation" for its library users. Under this provision, the Pondicherry University community, like teaching faculty, administrative staff, research scholars and students, can avail library support/service without human intervention. This service is being provided to bridge the gaps in library service that our library users might face in spite of our existing remote access to online resources. The library has a team of dedicated Library Liaison Officers, each attached to each School. Please visit the link to know your Library Liaison Officers <http://lib.pondiuni.edu.in/LiaisonOfficers.php> Users can contact the concerned Liaison officer for any Library service/support.

This support includes providing ;

- Citation analysis service
- Document delivery services
- Grammar checking service
- Purchased book chapters
- Reference and Referral service
- Similarity checking service
- Subject bibliography service
- Subscribed journals articles and others

Users are requested to check our online catalogue <http://10.10.80.227:8080/opac/> (through intranet for those residing on the campus) and the library portal <http://lib.pondiuni.edu.in/index.php> for online resources before making a request.

We are assuring you the best anticipatory library services at all times.

Library Liaison Officers

Ananda Rangapillai Library is delighted to broadcast a novel Academic Learning, Research and Teaching support service, "Library Liaison Officers," for each school. The motto of this service is to provide influential academic and research support to the Pondicherry University community like teaching faculty, administrative staff, research scholars and students.

Why Pondicherry University needs School/Subject Specific Liaison Library Officer?

Subject special Library liaison officers provide a range of services that focus on a particular area or discipline. The subject-specific library liaison officer will serve as a catalyst or interface between the Library and schools community in this capacity. They initiate the selection and acquisition of resources for the collections, provide subject-specific instruction in using information resources, and provide reference and referral services in general and specialized research areas.

Some of the advantages of having School Library Liaison Officers will be:

- Orientation/awareness programs for specific research areas and their online resources
- User's guide to the services and collections of the library
- Available for research consultations and hands-on class instruction sessions
- Staff to contact with suggestions to build the collection development.
- Subject specialists within their subject areas.
- Reference queries are handled thoroughly.
- Referral Services from other institutes and universities within and outside India
